

Ignatian retreats offer
“the opportunity to be refreshed with a renewed balance
centered in God.”

Every summer, the Institute of Christian Spirituality offers an individually directed Ignatian retreat on the beautiful campus of Spring Hill College. In the busy rush of daily life, a silent retreat offers a quiet oasis for contemplative time, where the still, small voice of God can be heard. A directed retreat requires an environment of silence and builds on personal prayer and mindfulness rather than conferences or group interaction. It is an opportunity for a person to be alone with God, allowing “the Creator to deal directly with the creature,” in hearing God’s call and responding with generosity

Ignatian Directed Retreats

SPRING HILL COLLEGE
JUNE 5-13, 2020

Rest, Refresh, Renew...

The eight-day retreat begins with a short orientation on Friday at 8:00 p.m., and ends at noon on Saturday of the following week. Shorter retreats may be taken for any three or five consecutive days during the same time period, beginning with an orientation session on the previous evening. Based on the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola, retreatants meet with a spiritual director once a day. Directors are faculty and graduates of our Spiritual Direction program.

"The retreat was wonderful. I feel like I have spent three days resting in the palm of God's hand."

The directors help each participant discern the presence of God in their lives and suggest methods and themes of prayer or meditation for each day, offering appropriate scriptural passages. Outside of daily meetings with the director, retreatants spend their time in personal prayer, reflection, spiritual reading and journaling, or walking the grounds of campus. A daily Mass is available in the Sodality Chapel. Meals and accommodations are provided in a specially designated student residence hall, to help ensure an atmosphere of silence and recollection.

"It has been a great joy to witness God's presence and loving touch in the lives of retreatants."
